Sample tweet: "Boom/ easy money leads to speculation/bubbles. Bust/crisis creates long-run 'reset' - redirects investment to innovation & real economy ..."

Still waiting for the Great Rebound? Richard Florida, an urbanist and University of Toronto business professor, offers a window into the latest economic thinking on how governments can boost their countries' productivity and prosperity. Much of what he tweets about may not happen, but it's nice to know there are promising ideas out there.
