Tomorrow marks the first day of summer in the Northern Hemisphere, the longest day of the year. The sun is at its maximum elevation, and that means many of us long to be poolside. Whether we use them to relax, exercise, entertain or simply recharge, pools have long been the crown jewel in home design and social status. We all clamor for fun in the sun, and a pool to cool off in.

Books by Slim Aarons Once Upon a Time, A Place in the Sun, and Poolside offer images of jet-setters and the beautiful people living the glamorous life at their favorite playgrounds -- swimming pools. Pools and everything that goes with them -- youth, summer, vacation -- are to be celebrated.

With the help of my colleague, Steven Pedigo, this edition of Creative Spaces not only highlights amazing pools at exclusive resorts that many of us can only dream of but also great pools to dip in at a neighborhood park.

From the Amalfi coast and French Riviera to the Asian mega cities, this slideshow features some of the best swimming pools the world has to offer. As the saying goes: "Meet me at the pool at midnight."
Bondi Icebergs Pool, Bondi Beach Australia

The Bondi Icebergs Club was founded in Australia in 1929, but the pool, rising out of the coral in Bondi Bay, is perfectly modern.

Photo credit: Flickr user ryanmary
Astoria Park Pool, New York, New York
The pool at Astoria Park in Queens is the largest of the 11 New York City pools constructed by FDR’s Works Progress Administration, measuring 330 by 165 feet. Under the shadow of the Triborough Bridge, this massive pool holds up to 6200 summertime swimmers.
Venetian Pool, Coral Gables, Florida
The citizens of Coral Gables have good reason for civic pride. Their public pool, flanked by palm trees and a bridge seemingly plucked from the canals in Italy, is a real oasis.

Photo credit: Flickr user socialBedia
Habita Hotel MTY, Monterrey, Mexico
On the roof of the Hotel Habita in Monterrey, Mexico, two pools flank a swanky bar and provide striking views of the city below in every direction.

Photo credit: Flickr user Deh Arts
Marina Bay Sands, Singapore
The Skypark atop the Marina Bay Sands hotel in Singapore flaunts an extended vanishing-edge pool—some 57 stories above the ground.

Photo credit: Flickr user Jeff Xia
Thompson Hotel, Toronto, Canada
Yes, that’s the CN Tower visible from the rooftop pool and bar at the Thompson Hotel in Toronto.

Photo credit: Flickr user ocad123
W Hotel, Hong Kong
A giant mosaic sets the scene on the elevated pool deck at the W Hotel in Hong Kong. The views of Victoria Harbor below perfect the mood.

Photo credit: Flickr user W Worldwide
Eldorado Springs Swimming Pool, Denver, Colorado
In the shadow of the red rocks of Eldorado Mountain, the pool at Eldorado Springs in Colorado boasts fresh water fed by a nearby artesian spring.

Photo credit: Mycoloradolife.com
Club 50, Miami, Florida

Club 50 in Miami, housed in the Viceroy Hotel, hosts weekly summertime pool parties 50 stories up.

Photo credit: Flickr user robertgeffer
Badeschiff, Berlin Germany
Floating in the Spree River, Badeschiff, also known as the floating "bathing ship," is a public pool located in the heart of Berlin.

Photo credit: Flickr user jerome.bailly
The London Hotel, West Hollywood, California
California sunshine lights up the rooftop pool deck at the London in West Hollywood, where guests can nosh on food from celebrity chef Gordon Ramsay.

Photo credit: Flickr user blog.jordanwinery.com
Hotel Du Cap, Eden Roc, Cap D'Antibes, France
Just down the beach from Cannes, the Hotel Du Cap, Eden Roc’s pool is carved into the cliffs along the Mediterranean Sea. The hotel has served vacationing royalty, businessmen, and movie stars since 1870.
Windhoek Public Pool, Windhoek, Namibia
One of two public pools in Windhoek, the Windhoek Public Pool is olympic size, featuring a lush green lawn for onlookers and residents to enjoy.

Photo credit: www.richard-reed.com
The Hotel Villa Cimbrone’s pool is a standout feature of this 11th-century compound. Set along Italy’s Amalfi Coast, the view merges green grass with the blue of the Tyrrenhian Sea.

Photo credit: Flickr user Margit2003
Fasano Hotel, Rio de Janeiro, Brazil
At the Hotel Fasano in Rio de Janeiro, rooftop pool guests can catch the breathtaking view of Ipanema beach below and grand mountains beyond.

Photo credit: Flickr user pab912
Gellert Therma Baths, Budapest, Hungary

Gellert Thermal Baths and Swimming Pool at the Gellert Hotel is heated and filled with water from nearby mineral hot springs. Every Sunday the pool is open to the public for family day.

Photo credit: continentaltravel.hu
Sky Bar, Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia

Guests at Sky Bar at Traders Hotel relax high above the bustle of Kuala Lumpur. On top of the world, they can unwind with drinks, swimming, and music.

Photo credit: Flickr user dazstudio
Hotel Gansevoort, New York, New York

The Hotel Gansevoort is one of Manhattan’s hottest spots, and the rooftop pool is a summer landing spot for New York’s flashy set. Underwater speakers add to the vibe.

Photo credit: Flickr user Esthr
Sanctuary, Scottsdale, Arizona

In the shadow of craggy Camelback Mountain, the pool at this Arizona hotel is brilliantly blue. It all feels a world away from nearby Scottsdale.

Photo credit: Four Seasons
The Viceroy, Palm Springs, California
The Viceroy Palm Springs is a splendid oasis in the desert: the pool’s striking cabanas and nighttime hours make for a relaxing time.

Photo credit: enemyoftheaverage.com
Hotel Cala di Volpe, Porto Cervo, Italy
At the Hotel Cala di Volpe ("Fox Cove," in English), the Olympic-sized saltwater pool is a year-round attraction on this Italian isle.

Photo credit: Flickr user Luxury Collection Hotels and Resorts
Little Nell, Aspen, Colorado

Aspen is typically known for its skiing, but the pool at the Little Nell hotel makes a convincing case for a summertime visit. The rooftop patio and pool offer gorgeous views of the surrounding, often snowy mountains.

Photo credit: Little Nell
Villa d’Este Hotel, Lake Como, Italy

The Villa D’Este is built along the banks of famous Lake Como in Italy. The gorgeous pool, literally floating in the lake, provides breathtaking views of the scenery. It’s as close as you can get to Lake Como without getting in.

Photo credit: Villa d’Este Hotel
Krapfenwaldbad Park, Vienna, Austria

Krapfenwaldbad Park features four heated swimming pools and sweeping views of Vienna’s urban landscape.

Photo credit: cristian.livadaru.net